

Biography for Eric Evelhoch

Eric Evelhoch is an applications technician at Resin Solutions. He received his bachelor's in science in biology with a history minor from Temple University. Eric has worked for Resin Solutions for three years with his research focusing on thermoplastic modification and enhancement as well as cure methodologies for polyurethanes. Prior to Resin Solutions, Eric worked for Caterpillar analyzing fluid data. In his spare time, Eric enjoys photography and is a classic car enthusiast.